Day 3: Gorilla tracking in Volcanoes National Park

It's an early start this morning for our journey to Volcanoes National Park where we join a gorilla tracking group. After a briefing by the trackers we head into the forest in search of mountain gorillas – the largest living primate on earth. As we weave through the forest's lush vegetation, the experienced trackers will teach you about how they track them and the behavioral habits of these gentle giants. Once the gorillas have been found we'll be able to spend an hour with them before it will be time to leave. Coming face to face with a giant silverback is one of the greatest wildlife experiences on earth! After an incredible gorilla encounter, we head back to the park's HQ and back to the lodge to relax and enjoy dinner.
